Operation Enduring Freedom

“What you need to know about my husband is that he was a good and loving person. He died for your freedom, for all of our freedom. Freedom is not free and it comes at a high price. George paid that price with his life. We cannot pull out of the Middle East without becoming vulnerable. What happened on Sept. 11, would happen again only much, much worse. George joined the Army because of Sept. 11. He believed in this mission and I believed in him,”
